Unconditional Gratitude

Deepak Chopra says that gratitude is the doorway into the Universe's abundance. Charles Fillmore says that gratitude creates a mind magnet to attract our highest and best Good. We looked at steps to initiate unconditional gratitude into our daily life.

My belief and practice is to align my process with the Great Master/Teacher Jesus' Cosmic Secret to bring anything into our lives.

The first step is to decide or choose. Ask is our conscious thing to do. Asking is translated as a command or demand, not some wimpy begging. The Universe waits to see if we know what we want.

The second step is to believe that we already have received. This is where practice of unconditional gratitude comes in. Our job is to be grateful before it arrives. That is how we demonstrate to the Universe that we are in alignment with the Cosmic Secret.

Finally, we must be open to receive. Arms wide open believing that we are worthy.

Try it this week. It works!

See you Sunday,
